

Governing Business & Relationships

A. Parthasarathy

APPLIED PHILOSOPHY

12-WEEK COURSE: PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

We all crave success, harmonious relationships, and enduring mental peace. Achieving these goals requires effective management of life's affairs. However, we often fail to recognize that the essence of all management is self-management.

We will explore Governing Business & Relationships, by contemporary Indian philosopher A. Parthasarathy. It presents the fundamental principles that govern the human experience, and explores their practical application in professional and personal life.

All of life is management. Learn to manage your self before effectively managing the world.
